HISTORY OF THE FRANCHISE

The Calgary Flames will mark their 35th season and 36th year in Calgary with the 2015-16 NHL campaign.

For more than 30 years, the Calgary Flames have been electrifying hockey fans in southern Alberta. In that time, not only has the team established itself as a successful NHL franchise, but it has grown into a vital and integral part of our community. From their on-ice victories and awards to their off-ice charitable endeavours, the Flames have become one of the premier professional sports organizations in North America.

It all started in May of 1980 when Nelson Skalbania and a group of Calgary entrepreneurs consisting of Doc and B.J. Seaman, Harley Hotchkiss, Norm Green, Ralph Scurfield, and Norman Kwong announced the acquisition of the Atlanta Flames and declared their intention to relocate the franchise to Alberta. Calgarians lined up to support their new team. For the first time in NHL history, 755 standing-room season tickets were sold, generating a capacity crowd of 7,243 fans at the Stampede Corral for the Flames' inaugural game on October 9, 1980.

In their first decade, the Flames amassed an impressive record of milestones and achievements. The team made it to the postseason every year in the 1980s, capturing two Smythe Division championships, two Clarence Campbell Conference titles (1985-86, 1988-89), and two Presidents' Trophies (1987-88, 1988-89), and advancing twice to the Stanley Cup Final (1986, 1989), both times against the Montreal Canadiens. After falling to the Habs in five games in 1986, the Flames prevailed in a thrilling six-game series in 1989, becoming the only visiting team ever to win the Cup on Montreal Forum ice. Two of the players in that historic playoff run—Lanny McDonald (#9) and Mike Vernon (#30)—would ultimately have their jersey numbers retired by the organization, while two others—Al MacInnis (#2) and Joe Nieuwendyk (#25)—would be inducted into the "Forever a Flame" program.

The 1980s saw the Flames move out of the Corral and into the Saddledome. The state-of-the-art 16,683-seat facility built for the 1988 Winter Olympics officially opened its doors on October 15, 1983. That same year, the Calgary Flames Foundation was launched as the charitable arm of the club. Since its inception, the Foundation and its partners have raised millions of dollars for education, health and medical research, and amateur and grassroots sports.

The following decade was one of challenge and change for Flames as they sought to replicate their successes from the '80s. League-wide reorganization and realignment shifted the team into the Pacific Division in 1993, a move that obviously agreed with them—they finished the season in first place, capturing the first of two Pacific Division titles (1993-94 and 1994-95).

Another new project for the Flames in the '90s was the purchase of a local junior team, the Western Hockey League Calgary Hitmen. That affiliation continues today under the banner of the Calgary Sports and Entertainment Corporation (CSEC). Launched in 2012, CSEC is now the parent company for five sports franchises owned by the corporation: the Flames, Calgary Hitmen, Calgary Roughnecks, Calgary Stampeders and the Stockton Heat of the American Hockey League.

Moving into the new millennium brought new opportunities for the Flames, including a third appearance in the Stanley Cup Final in 2004. In that year's playoffs, Calgary eliminated three of the top teams in the League before taking on the Tampa Bay Lightning, losing in the last game of a hard-fought, seven-game series. Fans rallied behind their team by sporting red Flames jerseys, marking the beginning of the phenomenon known as the C of Red that remains a hallmark of Flames home games to this day.

The 2000s were also a decade of acknowledging those off the ice who have contributed so much to the team. Two Calgary legends were recognized by the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2006, when Flames co-owner Harley Hotchkiss was inducted in the Builder Category and broadcaster Peter Maher received the Foster Hewitt Memorial Award. In 2009, the Flames lost one of their own with the passing of co-owner Daryl "Doc" Seaman, who was also inducted by the Hall as a Builder in 2010.

Although we are only midway through the 2010s, the Flames have already celebrated more extraordinary milestones. On November 26, 2010, the team recorded its 10,000th goal in franchise history, and later that season, they played their 3,000th NHL game. Then in 2011, the Flames hosted the Montreal Canadiens in the Heritage Classic at McMahon Stadium in front of 41,000 fans, a 4-0 victory that marked the first ever shutout in an NHL outdoor game.

Amid all the history, the first half of this decade has also been a time of looking forward for the Flames. Familiar faces have moved on while others have taken the reins. During the 2013-14 season, a franchise record 12 Flames players made their NHL debuts, and in 2014-15, the team returned to the postseason for the first time since 2009. As a new group of talented players takes to the ice this year, they likewise take up the challenge of once again bringing a championship back to the city of Calgary and their fans.

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

KEN M.KING

President and Chief Executive Officer of the Flames since summer 2001, King says he appreciates the value and community pride created through sports entertainment in Calgary–one of only 30 NHL cities in the world. "We're all fans, our identification with the team rising and falling with the box scores. But, it's that emotional dimension–and unrestrained excitement–that brings us together; always ready to bounce back," says King who recognizes the tremendous obligation the Flames owe their fans.

King has an overwhelming fondness for the sport and his aspiration every season is to raise the bar another notch to reward devoted fans with the best possible entertainment package in the NHL. He is grateful for the enduring fan loyalty and enthusiasm surrounding the regular season. He's also proud to have watched fans enjoy the party atmosphere of playoff runs for the Stanley Cup.

King is a strong believer in contributing to the community and, above all, consideration for others. His current community involvement spans numerous organizations, including chairman, TELUS Community Board, the Calgary Sport Tourism Authority, the Calgary Exhibition & Stampede, Borden Ladner Gervais CIAU Athlete of the Year Awards Committee and the Rotary Club of Calgary. Previous support and commitment involved the past co-chair of REACH (a $300 million medical fundraising initiative), the Calgary Committee to End Homelessness, Calgary Prostate Cancer Centre, Calgary Philharmonic Society, No Ka Oi Ranch Foundation and past chairman of the Calgary Chamber of Commerce.

In 2005, King received an Alberta Centennial Medal for outstanding contributions to the province of Alberta. Born and raised in Hanley, Saskatchewan, King launched a 30-year career in the newspaper business that included senior executive positions in Canada's leading newspapers including President and Publisher of the Calgary Sun and Calgary Herald. During his newspaper career in Calgary, King was acknowledged for his innovative marketing, establishment of healthy corporate relationships, spirited community leadership and appreciable growth for the newspapers.

King is an avid but mediocre golfer and like many other Albertans, shares a passion for horses. Most often he stays in the saddle. But not always. He and his wife, Marilyn, have two daughters and they are proud grandparents to Amanda's twin boys and Jocelin's son and daughter.

BOB HARTLEY - HEAD COACH

Hartley, a native of Hawkesbury, Ontario, enters his fourth season as the Head Coach of the Calgary Flames, following the 2014-15 season where he captured the organization's first Jack Adams Award as Coach of the Year. He has brought a wealth of experience to the Flames having coached the Colorado Avalanche for five seasons, during which they won the 2001 Stanley Cup, and was also the coach of the Atlanta Thrashers for parts of five seasons. In addition to his most recent Swiss League title with the ZSC Lions in Zurich, he led the Hershey Bears to the 1997 Calder Cup and also has Junior A and Major Junior championship rings among his accomplishments.

Hartley began his coaching career with the Junior A team in his hometown of Hawkesbury. After guiding the club to two championships, he was named head coach of the Laval Titan of the QMJHL. Over two seasons with the Titan he compiled an 81-52-7 record, a league championship and an appearance in the 1993 Memorial Cup. Hartley's junior success was rewarded when the Quebec Nordiques hired him as an assistant coach of their American Hockey League affiliate, the Cornwall Aces. It only took a single season before he took the reins as head coach in 1994, guiding the Aces to two division titles during the team's three year history.

When the Nordiques relocated to Colorado, Hartley became the head coach of their AHL affiliate, the Hershey Bears. Once again, his tenure with the Bears was a success as he guided the team to two consecutive playoff appearances and a Calder Cup title in 1997. A season later, Hartley was hired as the Colorado Avalanche bench boss. During his five seasons, the Avalanche won four division titles and made four appearances in the conference finals. Hartley's third season was ultimately his most successful one as Colorado steam-rolled through the league with a 52-16-10-4 record, a division title along with the President's Trophy and the Stanley Cup. Hartley's tenure with the Avalanche franchise ended in December of 2002 with a 193-109-48 regular season record and a 49-31 playoff record. His 193 wins are a franchise record. He became the only coach in team history to record 40 or more wins during his first four seasons as head coach.

One month later, Hartley was appointed head coach of the Atlanta Thrashers. He guided the young Thrashers through four seasons of steady improvements but it was the 2006-07 campaign in which they won their first Southeast Division title, setting new franchise records for wins and points with a 43-28-11 record, good enough for 97 points and third seed in the Eastern Conference. The team also clinched its first playoff berth in franchise history.

Hartley and his wife, Micheline, have a daughter, Kristine and a son, Steve.

JACQUES CLOUTIER - ASSOCIATE COACH

Cloutier, a native of Rouyn-Noranda, Quebec, is in his fourth season as an associate coach with the Flames. Upon retirement from his playing career, Cloutier was hired as an assistant coach for the Nordiques' AHL affiliate, the Cornwall Aces. While coaching the Aces, Cloutier also served as a part-time goaltending coach for the Nordiques. In 1995-96 the Nordiques moved west to become the Colorado Avalanche and Cloutier moved with the team. Midway through the 1995-96 season, Cloutier was promoted to assistant coach with the Avalanche. During his time as a coach in Colorado, Cloutier helped the Avalanche win the Stanley Cup in 1996 and again on Head Coach Bob Hartley's staff in 2001. He spent a total of 13 seasons as an assistant coach with the Avalanche concluding in 2009. Jacques most recently won the Swiss League title with the ZSC Lions in Zurich as an assistant coach to Bob Hartley.

Cloutier had an impressive career starting in the QMJHL. In 1977-78, just his second year of major junior hockey, Cloutier played in 71 games, going 46-17-7, and helped lead the Draveurs to the Memorial Cup. The next season he played 72 games going 58-8-6 and captured the Jacques Plante Memorial Trophy for best goaltender in the QMJHL and again leading the Draveurs to the Memorial Cup.

The following season, Cloutier was selected in the 3rd round of the 1979 NHL Entry Draft by the Buffalo Sabres with the 55th pick overall. He started his professional career with the Rochester Americans and won the Calder Cup with them in 1983. Jacques made his NHL debut with the Buffalo Sabres during the 1981-82 season and played with the Sabres until the end of the 1988-89 season. He spent the 1989-90 season and part of the 1990-91 season with the Chicago Blackhawks before finishing his goaltending career after four years with the Quebec Nordiques retiring in 1994.

Jacques and his wife Lynn have two daughters: Julie (husband Matt) and Jessica.

MARTIN GELINAS - ASSISTANT COACH

Martin Gelinas is in his fourth season as an assistant coach with the Calgary Flames. Prior to joining the Flames, Gelinas served as the Director of Player Development for the Nashville Predators, joining the staff following his retirement as a player in 2009.

In his 19-year NHL career, Gelinas played in 1,273 games (62nd all-time at the start of this season) and scored 660 points. He played the 2002-03 and 2004-04 seasons with the Flames, and tied an NHL record by scoring three playoff series-clinching goals in the same year – including two in overtime – during the Flames' 2004 Stanley Cup run (and joining Ken Linseman in the record book in the process). "The Eliminator," as Gelinas was known, is one just a handful of players to have reached the Stanley Cup Finals with four different teams; the left-winger won a Stanley Cup in 1990 as a member of the Edmonton Oilers and also played in the NHL Finals in 1994 and 2002. He also played two professional seasons in Switzerland (2004-05 and 2008-09).

A native of Shawinigan, Quebec, Gelinas made a splash in 1987–88 with the Hull Olympiques of the QMJHL with a 63-goal, 131-point campaign. He was named CHL Rookie of the Year and selected seventh overall by the Los Angeles Kings in the 1988 NHL Entry Draft. But Gelinas never suited up for the Kings. Two months after the draft, on August 9, 1988, he was included in the celebrated "Gretzky Trade" that sent Gelinas, Kings center Jimmy Carson, the team's first round picks in the 1989, 1991 and 1993 entry drafts, and a reported $15 million cash to Edmonton in exchange for Wayne Gretzky, Mike Krushelnyski and Marty McSorley.

Gelinas played six games for the Oilers in 1988 before being re-joining the Olympiques. In his first full NHL season in 1989-90, Gelinas had 25 points in 46 games, and won the Stanley Cup as Edmonton defeated the Boston Bruins in five games. Along with Joe Murphy and Adam Graves, he helped make up the popular Oilers' forward line known as "The Kid Line." Gelinas was the last player from the 1980s Oilers' dynasty active in the NHL.

He was traded to the Quebec Nordiques during the 1993 NHL Entry Draft and played 31 games for Quebec before being claimed on waivers by the Vancouver Canucks. Gelinas was a major factor in Vancouver's 1994 postseason run losing in seven games in the Stanley Cup Finals to the New York Rangers. He and goaltender Kirk McLean were traded to the Carolina Hurricanes on January 3, 1998, where he spent five seasons before joining the Calgary Flames. He went on to play a year in Switzerland during the 2004-05 season before signing with the Florida Panthers for the 2005-06 and 2006-07 seasons. He concluded his NHL career in 2007-08 as a member of the Nashville Predators, where his season was cut short by a knee injury. He was Nashville's Masterton Trophy nominee that year.

Gelinas and his family have lived in Calgary since 2002. He and his wife, Jane, have three children – a son, Matthew, and daughters Cameron and Morgan. Matthew was selected by Swift Current in the 2010 Western Hockey League Bantam Draft.

PHIL HOUSLEY - INDUCTED 2015 - PLAYER 1994-96, 1998-2001

Drafted in the first round, 6th overall, in the 1982 NHL Draft by the Buffalo Sabres, Phil Housley moved directly to the NHL at age 18 and was runner-up for the Calder Memorial Trophy as the NHL's top rookie in 1983. After eight seasons with the Sabres, the native of Saint Paul, MN played three years with the Winnipeg Jets and another with the St. Louis Blues before being acquired by the Calgary Flames on July 4, 1994. In his first of two stints with the Flames, Housley recorded 24 goals and 95 points in 102 games split over two seasons. He rejoined Calgary to start the 1998-99 season and recorded 26 goals and 143 points over his next 226 games with the Flames. Housley's last season as a member of the Flames ended in 2000-01, and he finished his career in 2002-03 as a member of the Toronto Maple Leafs. In all, Housley scored 50 of his 338 career goals and 238 of his 1232 points with the Flames, and represented Calgary at the 2000 NHL All-Star Game, one of seven career appearances.

DOUG GILMOUR - INDUCTED 2011 - PLAYER, 1988-92

On June 28, 2011, it was announced that Douglas Robert Gilmour would be honoured with induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame. He was born June 25, 1963 in Kingston, Ontario, and had a 20-year NHL career.

In 1980-81, his first year with the Cornwall Royals (OHL), Gilmour was 5'9" and 150 pounds. After an early injury curtailed his effectiveness in Cornwall's 1981 Memorial Cup championship, he returned to score 46 goals and 119 points in 1981-82.

Cornwall repeated as Memorial Cup champions and Gilmour, who had been passed over in his first year of draft eligibility, was selected by the St. Louis Blues in the seventh round, 134th overall. He was returned to junior hockey by the Blues for the 1982-83 season and set the OHL on fire with 70 goals and 177 points, capturing the Eddie Powers Trophy as the OHL's leading scorer. He set a record with a 55 consecutive games scoring streak and was named the league's most valuable player.

St. Louis signed him and he joined the team two weeks before the 1983-84 season. The Blues' captain at the time, Brian Sutter, nicknamed Gilmour 'Killer' for his intensity.

After three full seasons hovering around 50 points, Gilmour began to play a more open game and during the 1986 playoffs, he had 21 points in 19 games when the Blues came within a game of advancing to the Stanley Cup Final. The next season, 1986-87, he finished the regular schedule with a career-high 42 goals and 105 points and was selected to represent Team Canada at the 1987 Canada Cup. He scored two important goals in the series against the Soviet Union and was instrumental in Canada's victory at the tournament.

After another solid season in St. Louis, Gilmour was traded to the Calgary Flames at the beginning of the 1988-89 campaign. In Calgary, Gilmour continued his strong play in the playoffs, adding 22 points in 22 games as the Flames won the Stanley Cup in 1989. Gilmour scored the series-winning goal in Game Six of the Final against Montreal. Halfway through the 1991-92 season he was traded to the Toronto Maple Leafs in a blockbuster deal involving 10 players; the largest trade in league history.

Gilmour set a Leafs franchise record with 127 points in his first full season with Toronto in 1992-93. He became only the second Leaf after Darryl Sittler to register over a hundred points in a season and also led the team to within a game of the Stanley Cup Final, placing second in playoff scoring and leading the league with 25 assists. Gilmour placed second to Mario Lemieux in the race for the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player but won the Selke Trophy as the top defensive forward, a remarkable achievement for a player with such offensive numbers.

Gilmour had 111 points the next season, earning his second consecutive spot in the All-Star Game. He once again led the Leafs to the semi-finals in the playoffs. Gilmour was named the team captain in 1994-95 before the lockout-shortened season and remained a popular player in Toronto even as the team began to struggle. When the Leafs went into rebuilding mode midway through the 1996-97 season, Gilmour was sent to the New Jersey Devils. He spent one full season with the defence-oriented Devils and was signed as a free agent by the Chicago Blackhawks in the summer of 1998.

In the spring of 2000, he was traded to the Buffalo Sabres, then signed on as a free agent with the Montreal Canadiens in October 2001 and went on to play parts of two seasons with the Habs before he was dealt back to Toronto at the trade deadline in 2003.

He officially announced his retirement on September 8, 2003. Gilmour registered 1,414 points on the strength of 450 goals and 964 assists in 1,474 regular season games. He added 188 points (60 goals and 128 assists) in 182 playoff games.

On January 31, 2009, Gilmour became the 17th player to be honoured by the Toronto Maple Leafs when his number 93 was raised to the rafters of the Air Canada Centre.

JOE NIEUWENDYK - INDUCTED 2011 - PLAYER 1986-95

On June 28, 2011, it was announced that Joe Nieuwendyk would be honoured with induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame. Born in Oshawa, Ontario on September 10, 1966, and then raised in neighbouring Whitby, Joe Nieuwendyk played college hockey at Cornell University in New York State. Nieuwendyk spent three years on the Ivy League school's team and was twice named to the ECAC's First All-Star Team (1986 and 1987). He was also selected as an All-American in both years.

In 1985, after Nieuwendyk's freshman year at Cornell, the Calgary Flames were sufficiently impressed to draft him in the second round, 27th overall. In his first full season as a Flame (1987-88), the young centre scored 51 goals and 92 points, becoming only the second NHL player after Mike Bossy to score 50 goals in his rookie season. Nieuwendyk's totals also included an eye-popping 31 power-play goals and 8 game-winners, and he was rewarded with the Calder Trophy as the league's top rookie.

In Nieuwendyk's second season with the Flames he won the Stanley Cup, again scoring 51 goals. In 1991, he was named captain of the Flames. When knee problems prevented Nieuwendyk from playing early in the 1995-96 season, the Flames found few takers on the trade market. Finally, in December 1995, the Flames traded Nieuwendyk to the Dallas Stars for Jarome Iginla and Corey Millen.

Nieuwendyk missed most of the 1998 playoff due to a knee injury. However, in 1999, his health and luck returned as Nieuwendyk scored 6 game-winning goals in the playoffs to lead the Stars to victory over the Buffalo Sabres in the Stanley Cup Finals. That spring, he was recipient of the Conn Smythe Trophy as the playoff MVP.

Nieuwendyk went on to play parts of two more seasons with the Stars before he was traded to the New Jersey Devils. Following his arrival in New Jersey, Nieuwendyk reached numerous milestones, including the 500-goal plateau, 500 assists and 1,000 points.

In 2003, Nieuwendyk earned his third career Stanley Cup ring despite missing the Devils' Final due to injury. Later that summer he signed as a free agent with the Toronto Maple Leafs where he suited up for one season before opting to move on to the Florida Panthers in the summer of 2005.

Nieuwendyk's first season with the Florida Panthers saw the centre tally 56 points in 65 games, however, the club failed to qualify for the playoffs that spring. Due to chronic back problems, Nieuwendyk retired three months into his second season with the Panthers.

Joe Nieuwendyk left the NHL as one of the most respected players of his time, collecting 564 goals and 562 assists for 1,126 points through 1,257 regular season games. In playoff action, he added 66 goals and 50 assists for 116 points in 158 games.

Besides three Stanley Cup championships, Nieuwendyk won the Calder Trophy in 1988, the King Clancy Trophy (for dedication to his community) in 1995 and the Conn Smythe Trophy in 1999.

On the international stage, Nieuwendyk represented Canada at the 1986 World Junior Championships, at the 1990 World Championships, and is a two-time member of Canada's Winter Olympic team (1998 and 2002).

DARYL K. "DOC" SEAMAN - INDUCTED 2010 - OWNER, 1980-2009

On June 22, 2010, it was announced that Daryl K. "Doc" Seaman, a founding owner of the Calgary Flames, would be inducted into the Builder Category in the Hockey Hall of Fame.

Doc Seaman was born in Rouleau, Saskatchewan. He became one of Alberta's most successful oilmen and industrialists through his company, Bow Valley Industries, along with many other ventures. He and his brothers, B.J. and Don Seaman, were among the first wave of adventurous oilmen who pioneered the industry after the Second World War. Doc Seaman's war record was itself remarkable; he flew 82 successful combat missions out of North Africa as a sub-hunting pilot, earning a Government of France citation for bravery.

An original Calgary Flames owner, Doc Seaman followed the team passionately. Besides bringing the Flames to Calgary, he was a key player in building the Saddledome and bringing the 1988 Olympic Winter Games to Calgary.

A true hockey fan, Doc Seaman joined a small group of visionaries to save Canadian hockey from mediocrity at a time when the European game was becoming dominant. Canada's five straight junior hockey gold medal wins have their roots in Project 75, now called the Seaman Hotchkiss Hockey Foundation. He was a strong supporter of Hockey Canada's grassroots development program.

Among his numerous awards and achievements, Doc Seaman was the founding governor of the Hockey Canada Foundation in 1979; named an Officer, Order of Canada in 1993; elected to the Alberta Sports Hall of Fame in 2007; and received the Alberta Order of Excellence in 2008.

Doc Seaman becomes the second member of the Flames ownership group to be elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame. Harley N. Hotchkiss received the honour as a member of the Class of 2006. Daryl K. "Doc" Seaman passed away on Sunday, January 11, 2009, at the age of 86.

AL MACINNIS - INDUCTED 2007 - PLAYER, 1981-94

On November 12, 2007, Al MacInnis became the 10th member in the history of the Calgary Flames organization to be honoured with induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame.

Born Allan MacInnis on July 11, 1963, in Port Hood, Nova Scotia, he played junior hockey for the Kitchener Rangers beginning in 1980-81. During the summer of 1981, MacInnis was drafted in the first round, 15th overall, by the Flames. Although he played a handful of games for the Flames in both 1981-82 and 1982-83, MacInnis continued his junior career, which included a Memorial Cup championship in 1982.

After spending the early part of the 1983-84 season with the CHL's Colorado Flames, MacInnis became a full-time member of the Calgary Flames blue line later that season, playing 51 games and scoring 11 goals and 34 assists for 45 points.

MacInnis spent 13 seasons with Calgary before moving to St. Louis, but left Alberta having evolved into one of the most effective defencemen in the NHL. While with the Flames, he played in eight All-Star Games, but more importantly, was a key component of a Stanley Cup championship for Calgary in 1989, the first in franchise history. For his contributions in the playoffs that spring, including 7 goals and 24 assists in 22 games, MacInnis was awarded the Conn Smythe Trophy. In 803 games played, MacInnis recorded 822 points as a member of the Flames. He also holds the career franchise record for assists (609).

HARLEY N. HOTCHKISS - INDUCTED 2006 - OWNER, 1980-2011

On June 28, 2006, Flames co-owner Harley Hotchkiss received the prestigious honour of election to the Hockey Hall of Fame. Hotchkiss, the youngest of six children, was raised on a farm near Tillsonburg, Ontario. He spent his winters on the pond playing hockey, emulating his beloved Toronto Maple Leafs. His idol was Syl Apps. In addition to dreaming of playing in the NHL, the young Hotchkiss also planned a second career in the business world, just in case. The game of hockey was the beneficiary of Harley's practical side as he used his business success to ensure the growth and development of hockey in Canada.

An original member of the Flames ownership group, Harley Hotchkiss was among the group of local businessmen who introduced the National Hockey League to the City of Calgary in the spring of 1980. The pinnacle of their storied history occurred in 1989 when the Flames captured the Stanley Cup. Of his numerous contributions to the game, one of his most notable efforts and role on behalf of the NHL were to find a resolution to the NHL labour dispute that forced the cancellation of the 2004-05 season. Hotchkiss served six two-year terms as chairman of the NHL Board of Governors.

Harley Hotchkiss was an avid supporter of Hockey Canada and through his efforts the Flames continue to make annual financial contributions to Hockey Canada for the continued development and growth of the game. With the investment in bringing the NHL to Calgary, the purchase of the Flames funded the creation of the Centre of Excellence that offered coaching clinics, research in hockey development and sports injuries as well as athletic scholarships to Canadian universities. The introduction of Project 75, now known as the Seaman Hotchkiss Hockey Foundation, contributed over $8 million that is distributed by Hockey Canada to benefit the game throughout the country.

His involvement in hockey reached from the grassroots to the top branch. As a young college athlete at Michigan State University, Harley Hotchkiss was a member of the 1950 Spartans varsity hockey club. His generosity for other like-minded hockey people was continuously demonstrated as he has made contributions for the construction of hockey arenas throughout Canada including Fox Valley, Saskatchewan, and Aylmer, Ontario. Harley Hotchkiss passed away on Wednesday, June 22, 2011.

PETER MAHER - INDUCTED 2006 - PLAY-BY-PLAY

Calgary Flames play-by-play man Peter Maher was honoured by the Hockey Hall of Fame as the winner of the 2006 Foster Hewett Memorial Award. Maher was the voice of the Flames from 1981 until his retirement following the 2013-14 season. A native of Campbellton, New Brunswick, Maher's success as a hockey play-by-play voice led to his induction into the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame in 1996. Maher has also called World Championship games, six NHL All-Star games, and the Stanley Cup Finals in 1980, 1986, 1989 and 2004.

The award, named in honour of the late Foster Hewitt, is presented in recognition of members of the radio and television industry who have made outstanding contributions to their profession and to the game of hockey.

CLIFF FLETCHER - INDUCTED 2004 - GENERAL MANAGER, 1972-91

After an outstanding 48-year career that continues in the NHL, Cliff Fletcher was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame as a Builder in 2004. Fletcher began his hockey career in 1956 with the Montreal Canadiens organization, starting as a scout under Sam Pollock. He joined the St. Louis Blues, eventually earning the role of Assistant General Manager, and helped manoeuvre the Blues into the Stanley Cup Final during the first three years of the franchise's existence. Fletcher was hired as the inaugural General Manager of the Atlanta Flames. He helped orchestrate the franchise's subsequent move from Atlanta to Calgary in time for the 1980-81 season. During Fletcher's regime with the Flames, his teams made the playoffs 16 straight seasons and finished first in their division in 1987-88, 1988-89 and 1989-90. In 1988-89, the Calgary Flames won the Stanley Cup.

Lured to Toronto in 1991, Fletcher spent six seasons as chief operating officer, president and general manager of the Maple Leafs. He was named the 1993 Executive of the Year by The Hockey News. As a team, Toronto improved by an incredible 32 points from 67 points in 1991-92 to a franchise-high 99 points in 1992-93. Following two seasons with the Tampa Bay Lightning as senior advisor to the General Manager, Fletcher was hired by the Phoenix Coyotes as executive vice-president and general manager. He is currently a senior advisor for the Toronto Maple Leafs.

GRANT FUHR - INDUCTED 2003 - PLAYER, 1999-2000, GOALTENDING CONSULTANT, 2000-02

Following a career that saw him attain over 400 NHL wins and amass five Stanley Cup championships, fittingly, Grant Fuhr was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility. Although all five Cups (1984, 1985, 1987, 1988, 1990) were collected while backstopping the Edmonton Oilers, Fuhr completed his career as a member of the Calgary Flames.

On October 22, 1999, the Flames defeated the Florida Panthers and Fuhr attained his 400th career win and became only the sixth goaltender in NHL history to reach that milestone. Fuhr's accomplishments include six All-Star Game appearances, Vezina Trophy (1987), Jennings Trophy (1994) and two Canada Cup titles (1984 and 1987).

The Calgary Flames Foundation strives to improve the lives of southern Albertans through support of health and wellness, education and grassroots & amateur sports.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Since its creation in 1983, the Calgary Flames Foundation has served as the charitable arm of the Calgary Flames Hockey Club, offering much-needed funding to varied and far-reaching charities. Continuously evolving over its years in operation, the Flames Foundation now provides millions of dollars in contributions to these key pillars: amateur and grassroots sports, health and wellness and education. In keeping with the original mandate of the ownership group, the Calgary Flames Foundation strives to bring positive change to the lives of thousands of southern Albertans.

READING...GIVE IT A SHOT!

Entering into its 19th season, the Reading…Give It a Shot! program promotes the importance of literacy for Grades 4, 5 and 6 students and rewards them with Flames-themed bookmarks for every 100 minutes of reading.

Alongside the Calgary Educational Partnership Foundation (CEPF), the schools that participate in the program are entered into a draw to receive a visit from Flames players. Players do two school visits a season where they answer questions from the students and speak about the positive effects of literacy.

Harvey the Hound also promotes literacy to younger students eager to participate in the program. Harvey has his own set of bookmarks that students from kindergarten through Grade 3 can collect for achieving their own reading goals.

Over 24,000 students participated last season in both programs. Students who meet their goals or collect all 24 bookmarks are rewarded with tickets to a Flames game or Flames jersey.

POND HOCKEY BY ENMAX

Pond Hockey by ENMAX gives kids the chance to skate with hockey celebrities and learn game enhancing skills in pursuit of their hockey dreams. Community residents, friends and family share in the experience, drinking hot chocolate and cheering on their community hockey kids as they take on the Calgary Flames.

For 16 seasons, the Calgary Flames have been proud to partner with ENMAX on this community initiative in support of grassroots hockey that continues to play an important role in the development of young hockey players throughout southern Alberta.

WHEELCHAIR HOCKEY

For 35 years, the Calgary Flames have gone up against the mighty Townsend Tigers of the Alberta Children's Hospital in a game of wheelchair hockey. Despite the players' immense talent on the ice, the Flames have yet to defeat the Tigers in what has become a staple in the Calgary sports calendar. Following the game, the players sign autographs for the winning champions.

The Flames versus Tigers tradition began in 1981 and despite their defeats in the gym, the Flames are still winners at the Alberta Children's Hospital. The Calgary Flames Foundation and the Rotary Clubs of Calgary teamed up to donate $2.5 million to help build Alberta's first hospice facility for children. Right next door to the Alberta Children's Hospital, Rotary/Flames House helps families who are in need of respite and palliative care.

ANNUAL HOLIDAY VISIT TO THE ALBERTA CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Around the holiday season, the Calgary Flames and the Flames Better Halves make their annual visit to the Alberta Children's Hospital visiting young patients, along with distributing toys and signing autographs. The players also participate in an arts and crafts activity with a group of children from the hospital as well as make individual room visits.

PUMPKIN CARVING

Every Halloween, Calgary Flames players and their significant others team up with families at the Ronald McDonald House to take part in carving pumpkins.

Ronald McDonald House® Southern Alberta provides a home away from home for out-of-town families with sick children receiving medical attention in a Calgary hospital. Though the House has grown and changed since opening in 1985, the purpose remains the same—keeping families together in a compassionate and comfortable, home-like atmosphere.

CALGARY FLAMES HEALTH TRAINING CAMP

Each season, the Calgary Flames and the Calgary Flames Foundation invite fans of all ages to the Scotiabank Saddledome to take part in the Calgary Flames Health Training Camp. This fun and informative event is completely free for both children and adults and promotes the importance of living active and healthy lifestyles. The event features a variety of fitness testing stations, a sports-registration area and interactive information stations that provide education on nutrition, wellness and proper exercise.

The event includes fitness testing stations monitored by health care professionals including the Flames team doctor, where adults will be tested and assessed based on BMI, blood pressure, waist circumference and cardio/recovery with a monitored step test. Following these measurements, adults will meet with a physician. Youth participants are also tested and receive a Flames log when they leave.

PLAYER PROGRAMS

Through active community and player relations the Calgary Flames continue to endeavour to develop and implement impactful and high profile community relations programs while establishing relationships with schools, youth sports, minor hockey and other charitable foundations.

While the Flames team programs continue to give back to the community, many Flames players also have personal commitments to charities and initiatives of their choosing. The players listed below have taken on additional personal commitments.

T.J. BRODIE – SKATE IN STRIDES

T.J. Brodie continues to grow his "Skate In Strides" program alongside CARSTAR in support of Cystic Fibrosis Canada. Brodie has created custom skate guards for sale at FanAttic stores, CARSTAR offices and online. These skate guards will be sold for $20. The proceeds will be directed to Cystic Fibrosis Canada and Brodie will match those proceeds. The Flames Foundation for Life matches all player program donations making the total donation to Cystic Fibrosis Canada for each pair of skate guards sold, $30.

Brodie is also a huge advocate for organ donation and urges everyone to register as an organ donor.

MATT STAJAN – THE NICU AT THE FOOTHILLS HOSPITAL AND THE ALBERTA CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

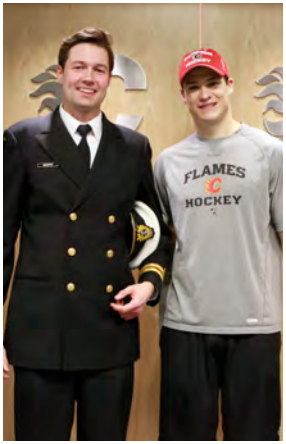
Matt Stajan is the Flames Ambassador for the Alberta Children's Hospital. Stajan also donates a set of season's tickets to the hospital to distribute to patients, families and volunteers. Stajan and his wife Katie also attend various events and volunteer with the hospital.

For each point Stajan collects over the season, he will donate $200 to the Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at the Foothills Hospital.

MIKAEL BACKLUND – THE ALS SOCIETY OF ALBERTA

This season, Mikael Backlund has chosen to align himself with the ALS Society of Alberta, an organization near to his and his girlfriend's hearts. Backlund will donate $200 for every point earned to the ALS Society of Alberta and will act as a spokesperson for the organization, attending events and promoting their cause.

Backlund also has a close relationship with the Kids Cancer Care Foundation and will continue to support them by attending various events and donating tickets to games followed by a meet and greet with Backlund.



MARK GIORDANO – TEAM GIORDANO

Coming off being a finalist for the NHL Foundation Player Award, presented annually to the player "who applies the core values of hockey – commitment, perseverance and teamwork – to enrich the lives of people in his community", Mark Giordano and his wife Lauren continue to grow their Team Giordano program.

In partnership with the Calgary Board of Education (CBE), Team Giordano provides resources to four Calgary schools to assist in meeting student needs and supporting personal student development. Funded by the Giordano's, the Calgary Flames Foundation and the Calgary Italian Open Charity Golf Tournament, the schools are provided new computers, floor hockey equipment, school supplies along with student mentorship opportunities developed and supported by Mark and Lauren. The kids will also receive a Gio journal where they can learn about setting goals and track different accomplishments that help them work towards being the best they can be.

This year, $100,000 was donated to the four recipient schools.

JOE COLBORNE – COLBORNE'S FORCES

Joe Colborne, alongside Packers Plus, has launched Colborne's Forces. Colborne donates a pair of season's tickets to a member of the Canadian Armed Forces. The member and their guest will receive tickets to the game, followed by a dressing room tour from Joe Colborne and an autograph. At various games throughout the season, the member of the Canadian Armed Forces will be saluted by fans on our Flames Energy Board thanks to Packers Plus.

The 5th Season.™
When teammates become best mates.

We're proud to support over 5,000 community hockey teams across Canada.

The 5th Season is the hockey season. It's when kids learn the value of working hard and enjoy the camaraderie of being part of a team. That's why we sponsor so many teams at the community level. So that more players grow up to support each other, and learn all of hockey's valuable lessons.
